McCullough Construction

McCullough Construction, L.L.C. is a general contracting firm located in Washington, D.C. that was started in 2000. We specialize in commercial construction and multi-family residential projects and work in Washington, D.C., Maryland and Virginia. Our well deserved reputation for excellence is based on our record of on-time, within-budget delivery that consistently meets and exceeds our client's expectations. Our approximate annual volume is $50 Million.

McCullough's most recent projects include the latest LivingSocial DC office, which was built within a series of historical row houses on NY Ave & 7th St, NW; Highland Park Phase II, a 144 unit apartment complex addition in Columbia Heights; restoration of the historical Wonder Bread building in NW DC, in which we preserved the façade of all four exterior walls; and we just began construction on Park 7, which will bring 20,000 sf of new retail and 377 residential units to the district.
